New Range of R Lok Expansion Rivets

Value Added Fasteners

Tech-Fast is pleased to announce a new range of R Lok Expansion Rivets. In all there are 22 new part numbers for customers to choose from, ensuring that there is a product to suit almost every application.

Included in this new range are products with countersunk head styles, which is a new feature in this type of technical fastening product.

R Lok Expansion Rivets are ideal in applications where soft structures are fixed to ridged as well as traditional hard structure fixing. Simply mounted using standard Pop Rivet type tooling the joint provided is non corrosive, but extremely strong.

When it comes to 'engineered solutions to everyday problems' talk to Tech-Fast first, we are where the industry comes to for the answers to their fastening & fixing needs in plastic.

We offer outstanding design & manufacturing capabilities.
